Comments on the Herald's Polaris Narrative.

WASHINGTON, May 21, 1873. The Herald's Special Account of the Polaris Disaster and the Navy Department.

A telegraphic synopsis of the HERALD's graphic parrative of the escape of Captain Tyson and his party on the ice floe revived here to-day the story of Captain Hall's fate. At the Navy Department prominent navai officers still express the opinion that he was in no way fitted for the command, and on such an expedition dissensions are bound to arise requiring the skill, experience and courage of an old officer to preserve order. This Captain Hall, they contend, did not possess. The Secretary, nowever, still discredits the idea that Captain Hall was poisoned. When the party arrives here will be examined separately, and report taken of their statements. By this means the Secretary expects to get at the exact condition or affairs from the time the Polaris parted from the United States Steamship Congress till the drifting away of Captain Tyson on the ice floe. It is reported here that Tyson's services were not wanted by Buddington when they left New York, and were not considered necessary for the success of the expedition. That they should have disagreed after Captain Hall's death is not surprising to the Navy Department. The HERALD's full account has awakened greater interest than ever in getting all the facts pertaining to the expedition A New Jersey Deputation at the White House Pleading for Van Buren. A deputation of citizens of New Jersey, consisting or John Hill, W. R. Vermilye, Daniel D. Smith, Joan Davidson, J. W. Jones, E. A. Walton, C. N. Jordan and Robert Rennie waited upon the President this morning to express their unabated con-Idence, and that of their fellow citizens, in the high personal honor and integrity of General Van Buren, United States Commissioner to Vienna. They state that they had a very satisfactory interview with the President, who received them with courtesy, and assured them of the desire and intention of the government to do full justice to General Van Buren when all the facts connected with the Commission should be received. Nothing, the committee say, could be more just and honorable than the sentiments expressed by the President, to see that no injustice was done to any citizen, and that prompt action would be taken as soon as the government was in possession of the necessary information, now daily expected from Vienna. The President understood there were no specific charges on file in the State Department, and that Mr. Fish had called upon him in person to deny the correctness of the report which had recently been published in reference to the State Department having any amdavit in connection with the story in which the name of a New York restaurant keeper had been mentioned. The committee left for home this evening.

The Mexican Claims Commission. Zamacona, the new Mexican Commissioner apointed in place of Guzman, recalled, will arrive here next week bearing the ratified treaty extending the time of the Mexican Claims Commission two years. Ratifications will be promptly ex-changed by Minister Mariscal and Secretary Fish, and business before the Commission promptly re sumed. During the interim a large amount of unfinished business in the hands of the secretaries has been disposed of and the records of the Commission are completed to date.

Belgium's Minister Plenipotentiary. Mr. Maurice Delfosse, for some time Minister res ident from Belgium, accompanied by Assistant Sec. retary Davis, called at the Executive Mansion today and handed to the President the credentials of Mr. Delfosse as Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary from Beigium to the United States of America, the King of Belgium having recently diplomatic courtesies were observed. Discovery of a Baby Farming Establishment-A Negress as a "Ladies' Doc-

A "baby farming establishment" has been discovered in this city. Dr. W. D. Stewart, Medical Sanitary Inspector to the Board of Health, recently reported to that Board that while making sanitary inspections in the tenement houses of Hog alley, while in the shanty of one Lucy Gaskins colored, he observed that she was nursing, from bottle, a very delicate white infant, apparently three or four weeks old. He ques tioned her as to where she obtained the child, how long she had had possession of it, and her knowledge of its maternity; to which sh responded that the child-a female-was brought her the previous week from the residence of Miss Doctor Jane Wilson 811 Ninth street, between H and I streets N. W.; that she has received and "as long as they lived," other infants from "Miss Doctor Wilson's establishment:" that Wilson keeps a sort of lying-in hospital for fallen girls who come to her to be confined, out of the way of observation; that Miss Dr. Wilson herself delivers the girls who apply to her, both white and colored; treats them through the sickness until all sions have disappeared and disposes of their offspring for them; that she is "doing a fine business, employs two servants or nurses all the time; that she has patients (girls), frequently several at a time, for several weeks in her house, waiting for their time." Miss Dr. Wilson has been doing business for more than a year past in her present locality, and Lucy Gaskins has been in her employment and knows personally of the facts which she relates as occurring during that period of time, and states that "the business seems to be ancreasing." Dr. Stewart recommended that the discovered be taken from this miserable den and placed in an appropriate asylum, and that the Health Officer order such sanitary inspection of the establishment and premises of Miss Dr. Wilson as might lead to the disclosure of what kind of iness she is doing. On the receipt of this re port Dr. Russ, Health Officer, ordered Dr. Stewart visit the establishment of Miss Dr. Wilson, and ascertain whether she makes a return of births and deaths, in accordance with law, to the Board of Health. Medical Inspector Stewart subsequently made the following report:-

busequently made the following report:

D. W. Bliss, M. D., Health Omeer:

Sir.—I have the honor to report that, in pursuance of your order, I visited the residence of Dr. Jane Wilson, No. 811 Ninth street, nothwest, at whose establishment the infant female child was born, as reported by me, in the custody of Lucy Gaskins, residing in a filthy tenement shanty in Hog alley, on Saturday, the 10th instant. Miss Wilson claims to keep a "lying-in hospital" for the accommodation of "ladies who desire entire privacy," and especially young girls who have been unfortunate. She says she has done and is doing "a good business;" that her patients come to her from this and neighboring cities; that she has done business in Cincinnati, Onio, and Norfolk, Va., and for the past year in her present locality in this city. She does not claim to have ever received any professional education, but says that her education is practical and "picked up," She claims to have conformed to the fequirements of the laws and ordinances of the Board of Health, as far as she thinks necessary, in the matter of reporting births in her practice, whether in her establishment on Ninth street or at private boarding houses in the city. She admits that the names by which she reports the births are fictitious, but claims that his necessary for the "success of her business" and "to preserve inviolate the confidence of her patients and facts communicated to her in a professional way." She could not tell, even approximately, how many births she has conor in a professional way." She could not tell, ven approximately, how many births she has con-neted, and said that sive kept no books nor cords that would afford any information; that she did not consider that the Board of Health has anything to do with her business. (Dr. Stewart reports that he has subsequently examined the records of births in the Health Office and is unable to find any record of births returned to the office by Miss Doctor Jane Wilson.) She refuses to give the names of the parents of either 'ne white or colored infants found in the terement shanty in Hog alley, though she advalted that both of the chidren were been in her house, the births being condificted by herself, and that the names which she returned to the Health Officer are fictitious and not true. To say that the miserable, filthy tenement shanty in Hog alley, where these attle waits were found, is unfit for a nurrery for tender infants, is to give but a faint idea of its real sanitary character. The miserable hovel, almost hid by the filth of the crowded alley, is unfit for human habitation. Yet that is the place, and such as that, where Mrs. Dr. Wilson sends these little innocents for appropriate nursing. Yet her high sense of honor and duty to these who have trusted her with their secrets and condence will not permit her to divalge to the Board of Health the real names of the criminal parents of those worse than orphaned little babes.

W. D. STEWART, Medical Sanitary Inspector.

It is the intention of the Board of Health to take such action as the law will admit in the premise.

such action as the law will admit in the premises in relation to this case, and at the same time place the matter before the Legislative Assembly for such action as, in the judgment and wisdom of that body, the preservation of life and public morals re-

The White Star Line and the Ocean Mail Service.

In view of the numerous failures of the White Star Line to despatch a steamer on Saturday, the Inman and Bremen lines have made formal application to the Post Office Department for the mail now carried by the former on that day. It is stated that only one failure has so far been caused by the loss of the Atlantic: the others arose from the want of spare boats to take the place of those requiring necessary repairs, and that the line has not at present steamers enough to perform the service.

A STEAMBOAT MURDER.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 21, 1873. A terrible tragedy occurred on the steamer Phil Allen, while lying at Idlewild, fifty miles below here, this morning. A planter named Morgan, who had taken passage on the steamer at Friar's Point, was shot and instantly killed by John Cannon, who was somewhat under the influence of liquor, Morgan was an entire stranger to Cannon. The latter previously threatened to shoot one of the clerks of the boat. While walking down the cabin he saw Morgan, and approaching him said, "You're a damned fraud." Morgan, without moving, said, "You're a liar," whereupon Cannon put a pistol to his head and fired. After the shooting Cannon went to the clerk of the boat and asked for a package of money belonging to him, and after receiving it jumped ashore and made his escape. here, this morning.
